

~HEIGHTS KIDS~

Hey everyone it's me Ashe!

What is there to say about this year, except that it's been incredible? Full of laughs, new teachers, more friends, the list continues on and on. By the time you all read this Halloween will have pasted by and Thanksgiving will be right around the corner. Without a doubt this is the most wonderful time of the year. An ample of holiday's following one after another, everyone in a happy mood and excited for the next thing to happen. At Suncoast High School we have just finished the celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month, a topic many of my fellow classmates already know about. In honor of the holiday each 5th block Spanish class was to decorate the door to explain Spanish culture. Each room was awesome and quite colorful. Some with large flowers and sombrero's others with words and objects from the Hispanic culture. Our class worked long and hard on a woman dancing beneath a flower filled tree, with a bright background of the Andes Mountains. In any case we all had a lot of fun and as much work as we receive daily it was nice to put it all aside and work on something we all enjoyed. If anyone has any school activity photos, holiday photo's (from this year), or any other kind of photo that you wish to get put in the paper send it to: heightskidstoday@yahoo.com as soon as possible! Thanks everyone and I hope you all have a wonderful month.
